JAMSHEDPUR (Via Tatanagar)—Bihar and Orissa

Jamshedpur is situated about 2½ miles to the north-west of Tatanagar Railway Station, on the Bengal Nagpur Railway, about 155 miles from Howrah. It is in the Singhbhum district of Chota Nagpur, in the Province of Bihar and Orissa

From Tatanagar Station there is a good road to Jamshedpur Town. Taxis and rongas are available at the Railway Station in good numbers

A good motor road connects Jamshedpur with Chaibassa, the head-quarters of the district, which is 42 miles away. Another road, in course of construction, will soon connect the town with Purulia, the head-quarters of Manbhum district and thence to Ranchi

The town is divided into three parts:—In the first part, called the Northern town, all the covenanted European employees and the better-paid Indians reside. The second part, called the Southern town is occupied by Indians and Anglo-Indians, employed in the offices and Works

In the third part, called the L. town, chiefly better-paid mechanics and artisans live with a small sprinkling of office clerks

All buildings are built on the "bungalow" type, each set in its own compound with wide streets between them. This is why it is called the "Garden City"

A new town is springing up near the New Steel Works close to the Railway Station on the site which originally belonged to the Burma Corporation. This is mostly occupied by men working in that part of the Works

The town has its own water purification and sewage disposal plants. The sanitation of the town is always maintained at a high level of efficiency

The Subsidiary Companies have their own settlements, but in all essential features they conform to the general design of the Steel Company's city

There are places of amusement in all parts of the town, besides, theatres, picture shows, etc., held periodically

Sub-division:—Dhalbhum

JUNAGADH STATE—Bombay

A first-class State under the Kathiawar Political Agency, and lies in the south-western portion of the Kathiawar Peninsula between 24° 44' and 21° 53' North Lat; 70° and 72° East Long, with the Halar division of the province as its northern boundary and Gohelwad Prant to its east. It is bounded on the south and west by the Arabian sea. The State is divided into 13 mahals. It has 16 ports of which the principal are Veraval and Mangrol. The principal rivers in the State are the Bhadar, Uben, Ozat, Hiran, Saraswati, Machhundri, Singaoda, Meghal, Vrajmi, Raval and Sabli. The capital town of Junagadh, which is one of the most picturesque towns in India, is situated on the slope of the Girnar and Datar hills, while in antiquity and historical interest it yields to none. The Upper Kote or old citadel contains interesting Buddhist caves and the whole of the ditch and neighbourhood is honeycombed with caves of their remains. There are a number of fine modern buildings in the town. The famous Ashoka inscription of the Buddhist time carved out on big bolster of black granite stone is housed at the foot of the Girnar hill which is sacred to the Jains, the Shivaites, the Vaishnavites and other Hindus. To the south-west of the Girnar hill lies the extensive forest of the Gir comprising 494 square miles, 823 acres and 10 Gunthas. It supplies timber and other natural products to the residents of the State and the neighbouring districts and is unique as the sole stronghold of the Indian lion. The area of the State is 3,336.9 square miles and the average revenue amounts to Rs. 85,00,000. The total population according to the census of 1921, was 465,493, of which 368,003 were Hindus, 90,091 Mahomedans, 7,216 Jains, 90 Christians, 53 Parsis, while 40 were of other castes. Until 1472 when it was conquered by Sultan Mahomed Begra of Ahmedabad, Junagadh was a Rajput State, ruled by Chiefs of the Chudasama tribe, during the reign of the Emperor Akbar, it became a dependency of Delhi under the immediate authority of Moghal Viceroy of Gujarat. About 1735, when the representative of the Moghals had lost his authority in Gujarat, Sherkhan Babi, the ancestor of the present Babi Ruler, expelled the Moghal Governor and established his own rule. The Ruler of Junagadh first entered into engagements with the British Government in 1807. The principal articles of production in the State are cotton, bajri, juwar, sesamum, wheat, rice, sugarcane, cereals, grass, timber, stone, castor-seed, fish, country tobacco, groundnuts, coconuts, bamboos, etc, while those of manufacture are ghee, molasses, sugarcandy, copper and brassware, dyed cloth, gold and silver embroidery, pottery, hardware, leather, bamboo furniture, etc. The State pays a tribute of Rs. 28,394 annually to the Paramount Power, and a Peshkashi of Rs. 37,210 to His Highness the Gaekwar, on the other hand, the State of Junagadh receives a tribute styled Zortabi amounting to Rs. 92,421 from 134 States, a relic of the days of Mahomedan supremacy. The State maintains Junagadh State Forces, and the Mahabat Khanji Infantry, the sanctioned strength of which is 172. The Chief bears the title of Nawab, the present Nawab His Highness Sir Mahabat Khan III is the ninth in succession and seventh in descent from His Highness Bahadurkhanji I, the founder of the Babi family of Junagadh in 1735 A.D., His Highness the Nawab Sahab was born on 2nd August 1900, and succeeded to the Gadi in 1911, visited England in 1913—14, received his education at the Mayo College, Ajmer, and has been invested with full powers in March 1920. His Highness the Nawab Sahab is the Ruler of the Premier State in Kathiawar, ranks first amongst the Chiefs of Kathiawar, exercising plenary powers and enjoys a salute of 15 guns personal, 13 permanent and 15 local within the territorial limits of the Junagadh State. Languages spoken:—Gujarati and Urdu. Capital:—Junagadh.

KHETRI—Rajputana

A chiefship in the Political charge of Jaipur Residency in Rajputana is held on a double tenure as the Raja holds one part of his territory—the Pargana of Kot-putli—as a free gift in perpetuity from the British Government while the other was wrested by sword from the Kaimkhanis (Musalmans) and other Rajputs, and submitted to the protection of Jaipur Darbar for which a tribute is annually paid. It stretches from 75° 12' to 76° 20' East Long and from 27° 35' to 28° 28' North Lat. This is due to the villages being scattered. It is bounded on the North by Bikaner and Loharu, on the West by Bikaner and part of Shekhawati District of Jaipur, on the South by Torawati District of Jaipur and on the East by Alwar and the Narnaul District of Patiala. Area about 800 (eight hundred) square miles excluding that of Panchpana villages in which Khetri has shares varying from 2 annas 6 pies to 13 annas 4 pies. Population (1921), 1,28,377 souls. Important towns:—Khetri, Kotputli, Singhana, Chirawa, Ajitgarh, Babai, Jasrapur and Bagar. Average rainfall varies from 15 to 21 inches in the different parts. Languages spoken:—Hindi and Marwari. Thikana is a word locally used for estate.

Head-quarters:—Khetri. Situated in 28° N. and 75° 47' E. Population (1921), 6,039. The town is picturesquely situated in the midst of hills and is commanded by a fort of some strength on the summit of a hill 2,337 feet above sea-level. There are in the immediate neighbourhood valuable copper mines, which have not been worked for many years. There are an Anglo-Vernacular high school, a Sanskrit pathshala, a Girls school, a hospital, an orphanage, and a combined post and telegraph office. The nearest railway station is MAONDA on the Rewari-Phulera Chord line of B B and C I Ry connected by a metalled road 17 miles in length. Passengers by Motor Service, camels and bullock carts. Goods by camels and bullock carts. No waiting room on the station but a Dharamshala outside station gate. To arrive by day trains convenient. In Khetri there are guest houses for European and Indian guests.

My system consists of progressive exercises, that adjust themselves to the requirements of a delicate, weak, ailing constitution just the same as that of a strong man, in a natural way as a child develops his intellectual and physical faculties, to a fully developed, virile, healthy, energetic bright manhood, at the expense of a few minutes' daily simple exercise, without apparatus. I have perfected my system to such an extent that every reader on trying is certain of an award of the famous American Diploma conferring the degree Bachelor of Physical Culture and a beautiful solid gold medal. For particulars send three annas stamps with your legible name and address.

PALITANA STATE—Bombay Presidency

A nine-gun State in the Gohilwad division (Kathiawar), of the Western India States Agency. Area, 288 square miles. Revenue about Rs. 9,61,616. The chief town, Palitana, is a station on the Bhavnagar State Railway. Palitana is justly celebrated for its Jain temples on the Shatrunjaya Hill, situated within the Palitana State jurisdiction. This hill is sacred to Adinath, the deified founder and organizer of Jainism. The entire summit is covered with temples, amongst which the most famous are those of Adinath, Kumarpal, Vimalsha, Sampriti Raja and the Chasmukh. The last is the most lofty temple on the hill and can be clearly distinguished at a distance of 25 miles. Shatrunjaya is the most sacred of the five sacred hills of the Jains in India. Owing to the special sanctity of the Shatrunjaya hill, Jains from all parts of India in affluent circumstances are anxious to construct temples on the hill, and all members of the faith feel it a duty to perform if possible, at least one Pilgrimage here during their life. Palitana is chiefly noted for its pure breed of horses. Population (1921), about 58,000 souls
